

Managing your critical programs

Sentient Portfolio Program Management (PPM) empowers decision-makers to meet the demanding governance, compliance and financial requirements of complex projects.

Managing costs in a dynamic environment

Few industries have to manage the volume and scale of capital projects that occur in mining and exploration. They range in size and urgency, and are frequently subject to change.

Effectively controlling the cost of these capital projects has become even more important since the global financial crisis. Reduced commodity pricing has squeezed margins and a fluctuating worldwide demand has put more pressure on the industry. Compliance, social responsibility and engagement with the local community are all primary considerations for the industry.

Strong project and program management discipline has never been more important to ensure projects are delivered on time and on budget, so that shareholder returns are maximized in an increasingly competitive market.

How can Portfolio Program Management help?

Sentient Portfolio Program Management is designed to manage large complex programs of work, often made up of a diverse range of capital and non-capital projects.

It identifies which projects will have the most impact on the business as a whole, maximizes resource effectiveness, applies consistent metrics and reporting across the entire organization and integrates into your established enterprise systems facilitating easy collaboration.

Sentient PPM comprises a suite of features designed to manage all of the key activities across your programs of work, from consistently assessing and prioritizing the most important initiatives, successful delivery of your project and programs of work, through to reporting on completed projects and evaluating the effectiveness of the investment.
